

Romika was originally established in the 1920s, has gone from strength to strength since it was taken over by the Josef Seibel Group in 2005. The Romika brand is currently experiencing one of the fastest growth rates in casual footwear across the world.

Inspired styling with comfort at the core means that key retailers across the UK are now stocking the brand with great success.

Highlights from the spring/summer 10 range include trend driven sporty flats to dress heels. Romika reflects the colour palette of the season with fashionable looks combined with durable under foot comfort, leather uppers and linings.

The increased formal influence on comfort footwear sees the introduction of defined heels and wedge units combined with incredible under foot comfort and stylish upper patterns incorporating beading and metalwork.

Stylish light-weight mules and sandals appear with printed leathers in bright colours. Pump shoes with web leather features and clogs with upper stitch detail complete the collection.

The use of polyurethane units, of which Romika is a pioneer, offers lightweight, flexible, shock absorbing and hard wearing soles. High grade leather uppers wrapped around superb fitting lasts with quality deep foot beds provide immediate and long lasting comfort directly under foot.
